REPORT.

To His Excellency, George W. Atkinson,
Governor and Commander-in-Chief, of the State of West Virginia.

Sir:-

I have the honor to present herewith my first Biennial Report, as Adjutant General of this State, for the years 1897 and 1898.

THE NEW MILITIA LAW.

The new Militia Law having been passed by the last Legislature, and approved by Governor MacCorkle, February 25th, 1897, went into operation early in your administration. It is, in the main, a good law, but it is not perfect, and requires some amendments.

ANNUAL INSPECTIONS W. V. N. G.

In the summer of 1897, at our request, Lieut. Douglas Settle of the 10th U. S. Infantry, on duty with the West Virginia National Guard, visited the offices of the regimental quartermasters, and the armories of the, then, seventeen companies of our brigade, inspecting the armory, books and papers, ordnance and ordnance stores, clothing, equipage and quartermaster stores of each company, and the men present for drill of sixteen companies (one company commander having failed to order his men up for inspection), and furnished this office with a written report, in detail of each company and quartermaster department. His first inspection was held July 5th, of Company "F," 2nd Regt., at Milton; his last August 23rd, of Company "C," 2nd Regt., at Ansted.

One difficulty, in the way to success of the Guard, he noted as common, in greater or less degree, to all the companies, viz: the small per cent, of attendance of the men upon company drills and other important functions, reporting in one case, especially: "The company officers seem powerless to enforce attendance at company formations. They complain that the Militia Law does not authorize them to order drills, and that thereby the control of their men is taken away from them.

"Section 49 Militia Law confers discretionary authority to order weekly drills upon 'brigade, regimental and battalion commanders', only, and, by inference, seems to withhold like authority from company commanders.

"It is imperative that the real meaning of this section be determined, and all doubt as to the authority which company commanders possess be removed at the earliest possible moment."

This matter was taken up, at once, and the following order issued:

"Brigade Headquarters,
WEST VIRGINIA NATIONAL GUARD.
Parkersburg, August 24, 1897.

General Orders)
No. 11.)

A question arising as to what is competent authority under Section 79 of the Military Code, the following is published for the information of all concerned:

A captain, by virtue of his office, is supposed to drill, instruct, and make efficient his command, at such times as may be most suitable. In case he fails to order the drills necessary to the efficiency of his command, his superior officers are authorized under Section 49 of the Military Code, to order drills for such portions of their commands as may be deemed necessary.

That is to say, should a battalion commander find that one of his companies is poorly drilled and instructed, he is authorized to order extra weekly drills for that company as long as may be deemed necessary. The base of military organization and efficiency thereof is the authority of company commanders to drill and instruct their companies.

Company commanders are competent to order company drills.

By Command of

BRIGADIER GENERAL SPILMAN,

S. B. BAKER.

Brigade Adjutant General."

In March, 1898, Maj. R. H. D. Willis, Inspector General of the W. V. N. G., began his inspection of the Guard, making carefully prepared returns of ordnance and ordnance stores, clothing, proper equipage and Q. M. stores, books, blanks, stationery, etc., and muster rolls of sixteen of the eighteen companies of infantry, which with Battery "A," then composed the guard. With Companies "A" and "F" 2nd Infantry still to inspect, he was made captain in the 2nd Regt. W. Va. Volunteers, then forming for the war with Spain, and because of this untimely ending of his work, no completed report has been received from him.

OFFICERS' SCHOOL.

As the new law demanded increased expenditure, in the way of allowances for the different headquarters, clerical work and officers' uniforms, the appropriation, made by the same Legislature, was not sufficient to allow a field encampment in 1897 or 1898, and as the best that could be done, with the funds available, a school of officers was ordered for September 20th, 1897. The officers of the brigade were placed in camp at Charleston, and the school held for ten days, to the great advantage of all concerned, two excellent officers of the Regular establishment, Capt. Casper H. Courad, 8th U. S. Infantry, and Capt. Charles G. Ayers, 10th U. S. Cavalry, having been, upon our request, detailed by the War Department to assist our own officers in conducting this school.

EXAMINATION OF OFFICERS.

In order to avoid extra expense, there was held in connection with the Officers' School an examination of officers for promotion, by a board of officers of which Col. D. T. E. Casteel, Assistant Adjutant General, was president, convened by General Orders No. 13, B. H., 1897, in which four officers were examined for colonels and lieutenant colonels; also an examination of officers for promotion, by a board of which Col. W. H. Banks, 2nd Infantry, was president, convened by Special Orders No. 2, B. H., 1897 and a board of which Col. C. L. Smith, 1st Infantry, was president, convened by Special Order No. 4, B. H., 1897, the two latter boards examining for majors, captains, and first lieutenants, twenty-five officers.

BOARD OF SURVEY.

The Adjutant General, being also the Quartermaster General, and Chief of Ordnance of the State, has in charge all munitions of war pertaining to these two departments. The State was responsible to the United States for a large amount of property which had been worn out in the service, lost, or had become obsolete, an accumulation of responsibility, through insufficiency of records, of several administrations, practically of the interval since the Civil War.

To get rid of this burden, boards of survey and inspection were organized, and after many weeks of hard work, the old property on hand was condemned and sold, and the State relieved from the greater part of a responsibility of from eight to ten thousand dollars, and the care of a mass of unserviceable property.

The property now in the hands of the State is all serviceable, well cared for, and well protected.

REORGANIZATION, W. V. N. G.

The organization of the National Guard was in one brigade of two regiments of infantry, of nine companies each, and one battery of artillery when the breaking out of the war between Spain and the United States took from the State service the greater part of our drilled men in the Guard, and the greater part of the arms, equipments and uniforms that were in the possession of the Guard, also absorbing so much of the funds at the disposal of our office as to make it impracticable to have any encampment or practice marches in 1898.

Under our law it is imperative that there shall be two regiments of National Guard in the State all the time, and consequently, the reorganization of the Guard has been proceeded with so as to preserve in the State the brigade formation, and the two regiments. In doing this the effort has been to form organizations of minimum strength, in order that complete equipment may be had for every man in the service.

This equipment the State has not been able to supply heretofore. Every man in the Guard should have:

Uniform,	Overcoat,
Blanket,	Half shelter tent,
Poncho,

and the State should have in the hands of the Quartermaster General a sufficient supply of army shoes to be issued when the men are called out for service. All these things are needed, besides:

Rifles,	Canteens,
Cartridge Belts,	Haversacks,
Blanket Bags,

Our Guard clothed and equipped in this manner, can be kept in condition to serve the State well, and at the same time preserve their own health while in the service. With an insufficient equipment this cannot be done.

It is the endeavor of this office to have a body of efficient men ready for any service that they may be called on to perform.

WEST VA. VOLUNTEERS FOR THE WAR WITH SPAIN.

When war was declared between Spain and the United States, April 23, 1898, and the President called upon West Virginia, first, for a regiment of infantry, to be formed, so far as possible of drilled men of the National Guard, the brigade of our State was at once ordered into camp at Kanawha City.

Of the eighteen companies composing the two regiments, six were selected, by lot, to stay at home. The First West Virginia Volunteer Infantry was then formed of all the men of the remaining twelve companies physically fit, and willing to enlist, afterward filled to its proper number from recruits obtained in different parts of the State.

Immediately upon receiving the call for troops from the United States Government, requisitions were made for a complete outfit for the regiment, but the United States Government could not fill these requisitions, and asked the State to supply everything it could. This was done, we buying blankets, bed sacks, etc., and subsisting and caring for the troops in camp.

The First West Virginia Volunteer Infantry entered the service of the United States in May of 1898, the first company being mustered in May 7, and the last May 14, the regiment breaking camp at Kanawha City about midnight of May 16, under command of Col. B. D. Spilman, late Brigadier General commanding the National Guard Brigade.

The first call restricted the number of men of the First West Virginia Volunteer Infantry to the minimum, 1042, but, later, another call to fill to the maximum raised this number to about 1385, recruits being raised for this purpose from different parts of our State, and sent on to Chickamauga, Ga., where the regiment was in camp, in detached squads, in the months of May, June, July and August.

On the second call for troops by the United States Government, the Second West Virginia Volunteer Infantry was organized under command of Col. D. T. E. Casteel, late Assistant Adjutant General of the State, and an officer of exceptional attainments. This regiment was readily filled to its maximum and mustered into the U. S. service by Capt. J. M. Burns, 17th U. S. Infantry, in June and July, the first company being mustered in June 25th and the last company on the 9th of July, the regiment breaking camp to move to Middletown, Pa., at noon of August 19th.

In addition to these troops, two companies were raised in this State for the 4th U. S. Volunteer Infantry, one, Co. "E", being mustered in at Parkersburg, commanded by Captain W. H. Monroe, with sixty-four men; and one, Co. "G", mustered in at Wheeling under command of Captain Albert A. Franzheim, with eighty-two men, the 4th U. S. V. I. being commanded by Col. James S. Pettit, late captain in the 1st U. S. Infantry.

And two companies of colored men, for the 8th U. S. Volunteer Infantry, commanded by Col. E. L. Huggins, late Major in the 6th U. S. Cavalry, being Co. "L", commanded by Captain E. E. Hood, with eighty men, and Co. "M", commanded by Captain William T. Bishop, with forty-eight men, mustered in at Charleston and Parkersburg, respectively, sufficient men to raise the aggregate of the two companies being sent later to join Co. "M."

Thus the number of troops supplied by our State for the war with Spain shows:

First Regiment W. Va. Vol. Inftry.....	1,385
Second Regiment W. Va. Vol. Inftry.....	1,322
Cos. "E" and "G", 4th U. S. V. I.....	152
Cos. "L" and "M", 8th U. S. V. I.....	145

besides numbers of men who have entered the Regular Army and the Navy from this State.

West Virginia has responded promptly and bravely to all calls made by the President, and the patriotism of her citizens is shown by the fact that this office has received, on an estimate two thousand applications for service in the way of raising men. I believe that at least ten thousand men could have been raised, had they been needed.

CARE OF OUR SICK SOLDIERS.

No regiment in active service but has many sick men, and our regiments have been no exception to this rule. The 2nd W. Va. Vol. Inftry., while in camp at Middletown, Pa., had a number of cases of typhoid fever and other diseases, and the thanks of our State are due to the kind people and institutions of Philadelphia, York, Chester, Carlisle, Lancaster, Lebanon, Baltimore and other places accessible from Camp Meade, which took the very best care of our men when they were sick. Among the hospitals of Philadelphia that hospitably cared for our sick soldiers were:

St. Joseph's Hospital,
Hospital of the University of Pennsylvania,
Presbyterian Hospital.
St. Agnes Hospital,
Red Cross Hospital.
Episcopal.
Polyclinic.

Col. John G. Kelley, late colonel of the 7th Infantry W. Va. Vols., remembered at Gettysburg, and his wife who reside in Philadelphia, have been most indefatigable in tender care of our sick, reporting at short intervals the condition of each West Virginia soldier there, to this office, and, also keeping the families of the soldiers informed of their condition.

There has been a dearth of information furnished us by our 1st W. Va. Vol. Inftry., and we are, therefore, unable to thus specify kindness shown to them by individuals or cities, which we regret, believing that there has been much kind consideration to record.

When the 2nd W. Va. Vol. Inftry. struck their tents at Camp Atkinson to go to Camp Meade, Middletown, Pa., they left fifteen of their sick soldiers at the Thomas Hospital here. Anticipating their discharge on sick furlough, request was made of the A. G.

G. for transportation for all to their homes, and in some cases, also clothing and commutation of travel rations.

Later, these men and over sixty others, some from the 2nd W. Va. Vol. Inftry., some from the 1st W. Va. Vol. Inftry., and some from other organizations secured the aid of the A. G. O. in procuring transportation back to their regiments, extension of sick furloughs, or discharge for disability. To this aid Col. C. N. Simms, Acting Assistant Adjutant General, has given greatest painstaking, and untiring effort, the work requiring over four hundred letters to secure the extension of furlough, where necessary, from the War Department at Washington, get the furloughs back from there and with them secure transportation for the men, when ready to return to their commands, through the Quartermaster at Columbus Barracks, keep matters straight between the sick soldiers and their commanders in camp, and keep the men themselves notified of his action, and, finally of his success in their behalf.

EXPENSES CONNECTED WITH THE SPANISH WAR.

The work of this office, as may be imagined, has been enormously increased by the war. The whole expense of mobilizing the troops had to be paid by the State until the troops were mustered into the United States service.

As the State Auditor decided that there was no fund from which he could pay such expenses, the Governor was under the necessity of borrowing the needful money.

The following accounts have been prepared and rendered to the United States Government, the items having been audited by Regular Army officers:

Oct. 31st, 1898.

As it was necessary to put the entire two regiments forming the brigade, into camp in order to select the men for the 1st Regiment W. V. V. I., under the law the men had to be paid while in camp, and, when all the accounts are audited it will be found that the cash expenditure on the 1st W. Va. V. I. will amount to about $23,000 00

MONEY BORROWED.

Point Pleasant bank.	3,000	00 $28,000 00

REQUEST.

The legislature is respectfully requested to provide the means for the payment of this debt.

Also, we would request such an appropriation as shall place at the disposal of our Governor a sum sufficient to enable him to carry out the law as stated in Section 44, page 16 of the Military law, thus preventing the unnecessary expenditure for interest, should another war come upon us, or the necessity occur for the movement of troops.

CLAIMS AGAINST THE UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT.

There have been forwarded to Washington claims against the United States Government for settlement, as follows:

Amount of cash expended for, and State property furnished to volunteer regi- ments.	$ 27,878	02
Amount of United States property in hands of the State turned over to volunteer regiments.	17,706	70 $45,584 72

There was also expended by the State for which separate claim will have to be made against U. S. Government: $6,425 50.

This was expended in good faith, and for legitimate purposes, but was cut out in checking with U. S. regulations in regard to expenditures authorized by them, said instructions not having been sent us until several months after expenses had been incurred. A few bills remain to be paid on this account, but the amount is not large.

The transportation bills have not been adjusted with the U. S. Government, it being impossible, so far, to get them in the shape required by their regulations, which call for the name of every man transported on each bill. Notice of this fact, also, was not furnished the State until a couple of months after the bills had been incurred.

ATTENDANCE OF THE GENERAL STAFF.

The staff of the Commander-in-Chief has attended him upon several occasions during two years:

First, to Wheeling to attend the funeral of Brigadier General Dobbins, Paymaster General of West Virginia, March 7, 1897.

Second, in company with most of the Governors of other states, to attend the dedication of the monument to Gen. Grant, at New York City, April, 1897.

Third, to attend the commencement of the West Virginia University, at Morgantown, W. Va., June 8, 1897.

Fourth, to attend the dedication of the monument to Major General John A. Logan, at Chicago, Ill., July 22, 1897.

Fifth, to attend the reunion of the Army of West Virginia, at Columbus, Ohio, September, 1897.

Sixth, to attend on "West Virginia Day" at the Nashville Exposition, at Nashville, Tenn., October 17, 1897.

Seventh, to attend the dedication of the monuments to West Virginia soldiers who took part in the great battle at Gettysburg, at Gettysburg, Pa., September 1898.

Of records of service in the Civil War, in the years 1897 and 1898, several hundred certificates have been furnished, besides many letters, written in cases where the data furnished was insufficient, or the name could not be found.

MEDALS.

Although several of the medals granted to soldiers of the Civil War, have been sent out in the course of 1897-98, there are still a great many in my hands for distribution, and not having the address of the owners, although we have used our best endeavors to obtain them, these medals cannot be delivered except as they are called for. They are all alphabetically arranged and carefully preserved.

BRIGADE HEADQUARTERS.

June 18th, 1898, Col. G. W. Curtin, of Sutton, W. Va., Aide de Camp on the General Staff, was commissioned Brigadier General, commanding brigade, W. Va. N. G., to fill vacancy occasioned by Gen. B. D. Spilman having accepted commission as colonel of the 1st W. Va. Vol. Infantry in the United States service.

Owing to the resignation of Lieut. Col. S. B. Baker, Brigade Adjutant General, and in order to concentrate and expedite business, Brigade Headquarters was, by A. G. O., General Orders No. 8, issued July 27, 1898, removed from Parkersburg to Charleston.

And, September 9th, 1898, by B. H., General Orders No. 29, Charles B. Kefauver was commissioned by the Commander-in-Chief as Brigade Adjutant General with rank of Lieutenant Colonel, Col. C. N. Simms, Acting Assistant Adjutant General, serving also as Acting Brigade Adjutant General in the interim, by order of the Brigade Commander.

ROLL OF OLD SOLDIERS

A bill was passed by the last Legislature authorizing the publication of the rolls of West Va. troops in the Civil War.

A board was formed consisting of the Governor, the Attorney General, and the Adjutant General, and the work begun.

The rolls were found in such condition that the information desired must be gathered from rolls bound and unbound, written and printed, and from a mass of miscellaneous papers.

First the unbound rolls and miscellaneous papers must be collected, marked and filed so as to be readily consulted. A box of these was accidentally discovered in the attic store-room, covered with lime and black dust. Among the lot some papers affording information asked for in the case of a cavalry officer, just at this time, and which we had, after careful search, failed to find in the A. G. O.

This lot was added to our files, having been dusted, scanned and marked, for that purpose, our entire collection of papers and rolls requiring almost one hundred files to put them in proper shape.

Since beginning this work we have been requested by many old soldiers, in view of the many errors in the reports previously published, to make our publication accurate, and this we are making every effort to accomplish, pushing our work as rapidly as possible consistent with accuracy.

There were between thirty and forty thousand names to be transcribed, and the repetition of some of these many times is practically unavoidable in the process of copying, from variations in the spelling, or the fact that some of the officers and men served in different organizations.

When transcribed the records must then be compared with each roll on which the name appears, this process adding to, not only the record of many of the men represented, but also adding to the list of men. In one case, noted as an example, the printed A. G. O. report for 1864 bore the names of Battery "A", officers and men, 153. The written Book of Records, in which is supposed to be entered the most complete showing, gave this battery, officers and men, 260. Our process of checking through the files, etc., gave us, including some cross reference cards made necessary by difference of spelling, etc., this battery, officers and men, 326.

There being, possibly ten cross reference cards, gave us an increase over the highest single roll, of 56 men, in Battery "A."

This involves an enormous amount of work, and great care. The plan is to collect on a card all that the records show of the military history of each man, and, when this is done, to arrange alphabetically all these names, and print them.

This will give us a permanent record of our soldiers, and in easily accessible shape. There are hundreds of applications each year, for the records of soldiers, and for facts concerning them, and the condition of the records has made it very burdensome, and often impossible to find the information desired. The alphabetic system will obviate the difficulty met with in cases of many old soldiers who have forgotten the name of the company, and even the regiment, in which they served.

When this book is completed it will contain all that is known about each man that served the State or United States, so far as our records inform, in the great War, and the work will be done for all time.

A. G. O. VAULT.

There had been no place to store the records of the Adjutant General's office in which they would be safe in case of fire. For this purpose, by the exchange of a safe which was too large for our limited office space, and yet, not available for the storage of our records, I had a vault built, opening from my private office. This is fitted with metal files, has a slate roof, with cemented arch under it; the floor of cement with air space and brick arch beneath, and double doors manufactured by the Hall Safe Co., and is pronounced entirely fire proof.

RECORD OF TROOPS, SPANISH WAR.

The organization of the Volunteer Regiments has entailed upon this office an immense amount of work in addition to the correspondence, etc., heretofore mentioned, as an experience with the incompleteness of the Civil War records, led us to try to avoid the same complications in connection with the records of our troops in the Spanish war. Books were prepared at considerable expense, and the original muster-in rolls of the different organizations carefully copied therein, and it was our desire to keep them corrected as to all subsequent changes as we went along. There has been an unfortunate disinclination evinced by the 1st Regt. W. Va. Vol. Inf. to cooperate with us in this work, which we sincerely regret, but in the case of the 2nd Regt. W. Va. Vol. Inf. we have records which are now completed and checked almost up to date. These records have already proved of value in several instances, and when the Regiments are mustered out of service, the Rolls which they will then have to furnish us will enable us to complete the work without the trouble experienced by the State after the Civil War and with little additional expense.

No system of instructions. 22 drills in fiscal year ending June 30th, '97, all immediately before or during Camp Holley. Company records show only one practice day in target practice in fiscal year to June 5th, 1897. Has never done any active duty.

Contrary to expectations, the drill was fair.

Company "D".—Total paper strength, 49; present at inspection, 28; absent with leave, 11; absent without leave, 10. General neglect on the part of the men to salute their officers. General appearance, good. Armory first floor of two story frame, floor space 30x50 feet, too small for anything but storage of property and place of assembly. Forty-five individual lockers, no good locks on any of them. Armory not clean, but in fair repair. Family lodging rooms overhead. All precautions possible seem to be taken to preserve State property. Nine of the above sessions were held at Camp Holley, six at home station. During fiscal year, 60 close order drills, 42 at Co. station, 18 at Camp Holley. Four drills in ceremony of guard mounting. Company "G".—Total paper strength, 42; Not ordered up for inspection by their captain. By the memory of the company commander, non-commissioned officers' school was held, in the last fiscal year ending June 30, 1897, 6 times, all in July, 1896; instructions in Drill Regulations, School of Soldier and Company in Close Order and Manual of Guard Duty. Thirty company drills in last fiscal year ending June 30, 1897, 18 at Camp Holley, and an average of 1 per month at home station. Target practice 5 times in same year. Average attendance at drills, 67 per cent.

During the fiscal year ending June 30, 1897, there were 47 drills, 34 in Schools of Soldier and Company in Close Order, 6 extended order drills, and 7 drills of instruction in Guard Mounting. Non-commissioned officers school was held six times, and target practice 14 times in same fiscal year.

Company "I".—Total paper strength, 49; present at inspection, 29; Arms, 49 Springfield rifles, model '73, very poor condition, dirty and rusty; uniforms, 45 serviceable fatigue, complete, that part seen at inspection was uniform and fitted fairly well. General appearance of men was fair; Armory occupied the second floor of new two story brick, two rooms, drill hall 76x40 feet, office 6x8 feet, finely lighted, not provided with lockers, and although the largest hall of any company in the State, is not large enough for company drills. During fiscal year ending June 30, 1897, 24 sessions non-commissioned officers school, instruction in Drill Regulations (School of the Soldier and Company Close and Extended Order) and Manual of Guard Duty. Seventy-seven drills of all kinds were had during fiscal year, 59 at the home station, 18 at Camp Holley, 57 close order company, 6 extended order company, 2 out post, 4 advance and rear guard, and 8 guard mounting. Target practice held nine times. Company never performed any active duty.

Company "K".—Total paper strength, 48; present at inspection, 10; Reported absent with leave, 1; general appearance of the ten present, very good; Arms, 33 rifles in good condition; 23 fatigue uniforms complete, 9 blouses, clothing seen at inspection uniform, fit good. SECOND REGIMENT.

QUARTERMASTER.

Property kept in basement of new addition to Marshall College, part used, 20x15 feet, sand floor, very dry.

Number of tents on hand.....26.

Number of tent flies on hand.....33.

Property sunned and aired when necessary, inspections of tentage once a week for three weeks, oftener when necessary. Inspection of all property before and after camps, and when semi-annual returns are called for.

"The inspector was much gratified at the condition in which he found the administrative affairs of this office. The property pertaining to this office could not be better cared for. The quartermaster is efficient and zealous in the performance of his duties, and would prove a valuable man for the State or General Government in case of war."

Company "A".—Has a strength of 52, but many are railroaders: present at inspection, 22; Arms, 60 Springfield rifles, model

'84, good condition; Company well armed and equipped, general appearance very good. Fifty-three fatigue uniforms complete, in good condition; fit of that part seen at inspection was fair; this uniform was furnished new at muster in, July 10, 1896. Armory, one story frame building, 24x46, no lockers or gun racks. Co. property locked in the armory is secure from theft. The returns show 60 drills during fiscal year ending June 30, 1897, all in schools of the soldier and company, except one in guard mounting. Target practice 8 times. Non-commissioned officers school is provided for by the by-laws of the company for three times per month. Company commander states the sessions are one-half to three-fourths an hour in duration, instruction has included Drill Regulations up to, and including the School of the Company.

Company "B".—Little more than one year old, organized April 14, 1896; Total paper strength, 75; present at inspection, 54, 72 per cent. Arms, 67 Springfield rifles, model '84, as a rule in fair condition, complaint of accuracy of fire of a number; Uniform, 53 uniforms complete, fit of part worn at inspection was fair; Armory, small frame building, used as store room and place of assembly, company keeps guns and equipments at their individual homes; Company commander estimates 30 sessions of non-commissioned officers' school held during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1897; average attendance at school about 50 per cent., estimated; Instructions in Drill Regulations, Manual of Guard Duty, State Militia Law. Only instructions given the privates is target practice and drills. During past fiscal year 29 drills, one of which was in guard mounting, drill reports show average attendance of 58 per cent.; all drills in School of the Soldier and company in close order. Spent a week at annual encampment, August 4 to August 11, 1896. No other field service.

Company "C".—Total paper strength, 57; present at inspection, 32; Arms, 59 Springfield rifles, calibre 45, 52 of which are serviceable, in fair condition; Uniform, not collected for inspection; Company commander reported 109 fatigue uniforms complete, could not say how many were serviceable. General appearance of men at inspection, good; discipline, very good, best in the Guard; Armory, one story frame, with floor space 100x30 feet, no lockers, roofs leak badly, making room too damp to keep arms in, men keep arms at home; the drill of the Company was much better than that of any other company of the Guard, with the exception of Company "H", 2nd Regt.; on the whole, this is, perhaps, the best company in the Guard; Non-commissioned officers' school was held 4 times during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1897, theoretical instructions in Drill Regulations and Manual of Guard Duty. Practical Instructions imparted to non-commissioned officers and privates at 34 drills in Schools of the Soldier and Co Close Order, and 5 times on the target range, 18 of the 34 at Camp Holley.

Company "D".—Total paper strength, 49; present at inspection, 15; general appearance, fairly good; Arms, 13 Springfield rifles model '73, 21 model '84, total 34, with two exceptions, dirty and very rusty; uniforms, 50 serviceable blouses and 62 trousers, blouses very good condition, number of the trousers old, moth-eaten and soiled, but not to such an extent as to render them unserviceable; The 15 suits seen at inspection, of fairly good fit; Armory, property with individual lockers, arm racks, etc.; kept in the opera house over the store of the captain; connected with the opera house by double doors, is room 50x70 feet, in which Company drills, paying owner $1.25 per drill, the room at other times used for dancing, etc.

The inspector was informed by the captain that a number of the absent were in town, and there was no excuse for not being present. If the regular condition of the affairs of this company is that seen to exist at this inspection, it would be good for the service to disband the company. In some states there is a regulation or law providing for the disbandment of any organization that fails to have 50 per cent. of its strength present for muster and inspection.

The Co. Commander estimates there have been 24 sessions of non-commissioned officers school in the last fiscal year ending June 30th, 1897; theoretical instructions of the school of Co. has covered Drill Regulations, Manual of Guard Duty, and the Militia Law of the State; practical instructions covered School for the Soldier and Co. at drills, and about 6 drills in Guard mounting and duty. Three times target practice; attendance at Camp Holley between Aug. 4th and 11th, 1896.

Company "E".—Total paper strength, 39; present at inspection, 17; absent without leave, 22; Arms, 35 serviceable rifles; 26 serviceable uniforms complete, fit of part seen at inspection was fair; Armory in the third story of a brick building, three rooms, 24x24, 18x50 and 12x24, the smallest room provided with 49 excellent lockers made of hard wood; well lighted, good state of repair, not very clean; no systematic theoretical instructions in past fiscal year, ending June 30, 1897, only practical instruction to the privates was in Drill Regulations, in School of the Soldier and Company in Close Order only; During the past fiscal year the company was drilled 30 times, 24 at Camp Holley, 6 times at home station, the armory is too small for any but squad drilling, and the company has been unable to secure a suitable target range.

Company "F".—Total paper strength, 56; present at inspection, 35; Arms, rusty and dirty, canteens and other equipments, good; Uniform, about 20 each blouses and trousers more than enough to supply the company, the fit of many not good, as they were not made for individuals of the company. The clothing seen at inspection was uniform in appearance and make. Armory, on second floor of two story frame building, interior 29x60 feet, well lighted, good state of repair; of the 21 men absent, only 1 absent without leave; During the months of December, January, and February, non-commissioned officers' school was held weekly. Capt. states that all the officers attended all the sessions of the school, and about 50 per cent. of the non-commissioned officers; instructions covered Drill Regulations and Manual of Guard, during fiscal year ending June 30, 1897, company drilled 35 times, attendance 35 per cent., close order drills 25, extended order 3, guard mounting 7. The company has a target range up to and including 600 yards; target practice held 5 different days in past fiscal year; company in State encampment August 4 to 11, 1896. Company commander seemed to be of the opinion that because members of his command are mostly laboring men, drill in setting up exercises unnecessary; such men need those exercises perhaps more than any other class in order to give them a military appearance and bearing.

Company "G".—Total paper strength, 30, and 18 more privates who have recently enlisted but are not supplied with uniforms; present at inspection, 32; Arms, miserable condition, disgrace to the Guard, rifles model '73, rusty and dirty, canteens the only part of the company equipments that do not need replacing; Uniforms, 20 pairs trousers, 40 blouses, fit not good, uniform in make and appearance; armory, on second floor of frame building, corner 20th Street and 3rd Avenue, well lighted, ventilated, good repair, fairly clean, has suitable individual lockers; Present company commander states that since he assumed command, Jan. 4, 1897, they have held non-commissioned officers' school twice, the studies covered by instructions are Drill Regulations and Manual of Guard Duty, only practical instructions given, in School of the Soldier at drills at home and in camp and in guard duty at annual encampment. Retained returns misplaced, no authentic statement as to drills during the fiscal year. Company commander estimates from the several months he has been in command 30 drills had during fiscal year ending June 30, 1897, of all kinds, 3 of these were in extended order, remainder in close order company drill. No target practice whatever during the last three years, unable to secure a suitable target range; Company was in Brigade camp from August 4 to August 11, 1896.

Company "H".—Total paper strength, 37; present at inspection, 24, 67 per cent. Arms, Springfield rifles, calibre 45, model '84, 42 in fairly clean condition at inspection, serviceable but not in good condition, should be replaced; Uniforms, 50 fatigue uniforms complete, and 25 extra pairs of trousers, clothing all uniform, though a part is soiled, some part moth-eaten, fit of that at inspection was fair; Armory, small, one story frame building 13 1-2x35 1-2 feet, hardly large enough to admit the company and its property, individual lockers, but not good locks on them; roof in need of repair; 38 sessions of non-commissioned officers' school held, instructions in Drill Regulation and Manual of Guard Duty, Security and Information, and National Guard in Service, the latter work a series of lectures prepared by U. S. Army officers and published by Brig. Gen. Ordway of the National Guard of the District of Columbia. Above sessions of school held immediately after company drills, largely attended by the privates of company; during fiscal year ending June 30, 1897, 71 drills of all kinds, 18 at Camp Holley, 53 at home station, 38 of the 53 in School of the Soldier, in the armory, 17 in School of Company out of doors; 8 drills in extended order of company, 4 drills in guard mounting and duty; The captain of this company deserves great credit for the amount of instructions he has succeeded in imparting to his men. Company records show attendance at above drills, 41 per cent., fairly good showing; men occasionally put through the setting up exercises in School of the Soldier. Target practice held two days in fiscal year, ending June 30. Company has a target range two miles from the armory good up to 300 yards, fair up to 500 yards, as stated; during past five years the company has been on seven practice marches from 4 to 16 miles from armory and return.

Company "I".—Total paper strength, 46; present at inspection, 24; Arms, Springfield, model '84, calibre 45, fairly good condition; Uniform, 47 blouses, 37 trousers, serviceable, clothing uniform, fit far from what could be desired. Armory, room 60x60 feet, on third floor of brick building in Huntington, individual lockers built in the armory, keys kept by Q. M. Sergt., locks cheap and easily opened by odd keys; No non-commissioned officers' school held since Camp Holley, for several months previous to which, company commander states, school was held fortnightly; no records kept; only instruction imparted to privates is at drills; 59 drills during fiscal year ending June 30, 1897, rather part of the company was assembled on as many different times for drill, the company commander stated the company was not drilled on all those occasions; all drills in School of the Soldier, and School of the Company in close order; no target practice had for the last three years, no target range can be secured near the company station; general appearance of the men was fair.

REPORT.

On the 4th day of May, 1898, the United States Army officer detailed as Professor of Military Science and Tactics was withdrawn on account of the war with Spain. By order of the President of that date, I was detailed in charge of this department until such time as the Army detail might be restored. I am still in charge of the post. I submit herewith some extracts from Orders No. 67, C. H., c. s., which indicate the course of instruction outlined by me for the year ending June 30th, 1899. The instruction of the Corps is progressing in a satisfactory manner so far as the facilities at hand will permit. The one great need is an armory and drill-hall with suitable recitation rooms, where instruction can be carried on regardless of weather. During the winter season drills must be suspended for want of a drill-hall.

APPENDIX F.

REPORT OF BRIGADE COMMANDER.

Brigade Headquarters,
West Virginia National Guard,
Charleston, W. Va., Dec. 31, 1898.

The Commander-in-Chief, West Virginia National Guard,
Charleston, W. Va.

(Through the Adjutant General's Office.)

Sir:—I have the honor to submit herewith my report presenting a summary of the condition of the Brigade at the time I assumed command, together with a review of the chief events in the reorganization of the Brigade, so far as advanced, and some observations touching the present condition of the forces under my command, with certain recommendations which I deem essential to promote the interests of the service.

It is not practicable, nor is it deemed expedient or necessary that this report should attempt to cover a history of the Brigade during the past two years prior to the date of my command. The essentials in this respect are of record in the Adjutant General's office, and, I am informed, will be submitted in the report made by the Adjutant General.

It may be in place to remark, in passing, that such knowledge as I have of the State soldiery, when under the command of my predecessor, Brigadier General B. D. Spilman, warrants me in bearing testimony to the high standard attained by the Brigade, at that time. Credit is due General Spilman and the able officers of his command for the excellence achieved.

The personnel of the officers was, with remarkably few exceptions, distinguished for the high order of military attainments and devotion to the service, while the enlisted men were of an excellent average, patriotic and faithful in their duties as soldiers of the State. The efficiency of the officers and men of the Guard is borne out by the good record they have made in the United States Volunteer service.

Before the outbreak of the war the Brigade Commander had under his command a Brigade Staff, two Regiments of Infantry of nine Companies each, one Battery of Artillery, a Medical Department, the Corps of Cadets of the Morgantown University, (organized as a separate battalion of the National Guard, and, under the New Military Code, subject to such duty as the Commander-in-Chief may order), and a Signal Corps, which was organized on the eve of hostilities.

When I was commissioned Brigade Commander, June 18th, 1898, the command had been reduced to small proportions, and was generally disorganized on account of the transfer of a majority of the officers and men to the service of the United States in the Spanish-American war. The accountability for the property of the Guard was also left in a state of confusion incidental to the hurried assembling at Camp Lee, and, in some instances, to the negligence of certain officers.

The former Brigade Quartermaster having been commissioned in the Second Regiment W. Va. Vol. Infy., and being out of the State, no report for the year 1898 is forthcoming from him; and, by reason of the difficulty he experienced at Camp Lee in securing property reports from the officers designated for U. S. service, as I am informed, together with the taking of unauthorized property by the 1st Regt. W. Va. Vol. Infy. when it left Camp Lee, has so complicated the property records that no intelligent and complete report can be made until the return of the officers of that regiment from the U. S. service.

The remnant of the Quartermaster stores which were in the custody of the Brigade Quartermaster at the time of the departure of the 1st W. Va. Vols., were gathered up and turned into the Adjutant General's office without invoice or returns.

For the year 1897, the Brigade Quartermaster filed no regular report. The only occasion on which he was on active duty was at the Officers' School Camp, September 1897. The actual tent age and camp equipage was brought to Camp by the headquarters of each regiment, and the officers of each company, for their own use, and afterwards returned to their proper stations.

The purchase of all quartermaster supplies necessary for this camp, was made by the Chief Quartermaster, who after approving the bills therefor, turning them over to the A. G. O., and set-ments were made direct from that office, and included in their report under expenses of Officers' School Camp.

General Orders No. 5, dated May 24, 1898, issued from the Adjutant General's Office, required the formation of two regiments of six companies each. This order, in effect, contemplated a reorganization of the Brigade, to be composed of the companies and other organizations remaining in the service of the State, and of such new companies as should be determined upon. Its purpose was to fulfill the mandate of the law, which requires the Commander-in-Chief to maintain an organized military force within the State.

I have proceeded with the execution of this order as expeditiously as circumstances would permit, in order that the State should have the protection of its own citizen soldiery in any contingency that might arise. In order to provide field officers for the two Regiments of the Brigade, an examination was held, as required by law, and the following promotions were made, and commissions were issued accordingly, viz:

Colonel Macker Babb, Commanding 1st Infantry,

Colonel Joseph A. Parker, Commanding 2nd Infantry,

Lt. Colonel Robert B. Ash, 1st Infantry,

Lt. Colonel C. N. Simms, 2nd Infantry,

No changes have been made in the Brigade Staff except where there were vacancies, and these vacancies have been filled by appointment of the Brigade Commander duly approved by the Commander-in-Chief.

There are now under my command,

One Brigade Staff,

First Regiment Infantry, organized as follows:

Co. "A", Elkins, one commissioned officer, 41 enlisted men,

Co. "C", Wellsburg, two commissioned officers, 40 enlisted men,

Co. "F", Burton, three commissioned officers, 47 enlisted men,

Co. "G", Palatine, three commissioned officers, 42 enlisted men,

Co. "H", Piedmont, two commissioned officers, 34 enlisted men,

Second Regiment Infantry, organized as follows:

Co. "C", Ansted, two commissioned officers, 29 enlisted men,

Co. "D", Hinton, two commissioned officers, 34 enlisted men,

Co. "F", Milton, three commissioned officers, 62 enlisted men,

Co. "G", Huntington, one commissioned officer, 25 enlisted men,

Co. "H", Ronceverte, 20 enlisted men,

Co. "L", Parkersburg, two commissioned officers, 40 enlisted men.

Co. "M", Charleston, three commissioned officers, 40 enlisted men.

Band, Huntington, 23 enlisted men.

Battery "A", Berkeley Springs, four commissioned officers, 72 enlisted men.

Cadet Battalion, Morgantown, thirteen commissioned officers, 125 enlisted men.

The Medical Department has been organized with one Chief Surgeon, one Surgeon for each Regiment, and one Assistant Surgeon, together with a number of the members of the Hospital Corps who did not go into the United States Volunteer service.

A reorganization of the Signal Corps has been perfected, under competent officers, with 25 carefully selected men.

The Brigade organization, as outlined above, is on the minimum basis fixed by law, the intention having been to keep open as many places as could be reserved, consistent with the good of the service, for the reinstatement in the Guard of officers who volunteered in the U. S. service, when they return to the State.

The men who enlisted in the U. S. Volunteer service were honorably discharged out the service of the State, as per General Orders No. 5, issued from the Adjutant General's office, series of 1898. By General Orders No. 14 A. G. O., 1898, provision was made for the reinstatement of such of these men as may desire to re-enter the service of the State for the balance of the period of their original enlistment, crediting them with the time served in the United States Volunteers. The re-enlistment of these men is considered desirable, as the experience gained by them in the United States service would add materially to the efficiency of the Brigade.

In addition to the foregoing organizations there are fragments of former companies consisting of from ten to twenty men each, liable to military duty, located as follows:

First Regiment:

- Company "B", Moundsville.
- Company "D", Berkeley Springs.
- Company "E", Martinsburg.
- Company "I", Charlestown.
- Company "K", Clarksburg.

Second Regiment:

- Company "A", Bluefield.
- Company "B," Bissell.
- Company "F", Parkersburg.
- Company "I", Huntington.

A few miscellaneous suggestions, calculated to promote the efficiency of the Brigade and make it better equipped for actual service, commend themselves to me, which I beg to submit:

Good Conduct Badges should be provided for worthy enlisted men, and service stripes provided and worn on fatigue uniforms.

Discharges issued in future should have the character of the soldier's service during enlistment stated in the order announcing his discharge. This would be an act of justice to worthy men, and distinguish the good from the indifferent.

In my opinion Practice Marches would be an improvement over the former custom of a General Annual Encampment, such marches to be conducted in every respect as marches are made in the field in actual service. This custom is in vogue in a number of States where the National Guard has been raised to a high standard.

A Company Cook should be authorized for enlistment in each Company, and be paid at the rate fixed for Corporals.

Cartridge Boxes and Blanket Bags should be dispensed with, and replaced by Woven Cartridge Belts, and Blanket Rolls. An Individual Mess Outfit should be supplied each man.

In conclusion, it gives me pleasure to testify to the fidelity and zeal in the service of the State displayed generally by the officers and men left in the Brigade who did not get the coveted opportunity to serve their Country in the Spanish-American War, and now constitute the organizations under my command. The officers are careful, painstaking and faithful in the discharge of their duties, and the routine work necessary to the maintenance and conduct of their commands entails considerable labor for which there is but small compensation.

The esprit de corps of the Brigade is good, and, with suitable provision made by the Legislature, I am satisfied that West Virginia will have a National Guard that will be a credit to the State, and afford that protection and security for the purpose of which its existence and maintenance is provided by our laws.

It is respectfully submitted that the Commander-in-Chief urge upon the Legislature the importance and necessity of an adequate appropriation to these ends.

Very respectfully,

G. W. CURTIN,

Brigadier General Commanding.

Such return shall be verified by his oath, which may be administered by any commanding officer; and such verified return shall be as good evidence of the facts therein stated, on the trial of any person returned as a delinquent, as if such officer or non-commissioned officer had testified to the same before a summary court.

Contracts have been entered into with the various railroad companies of the State for the transportation of the National Guard. The following are the only officers, who are authorized to issue orders for transportation, and to make requests on the railroad companies; the Adjutant General's office, the brigade commander, a regimental commander, a battalion commander and a company commander. When orders are issued requiring transportation, they will always state that "the travel enjoined is necessary for the public service." Responsible officers will exercise great care in issuing orders for transportation, and in any case where the transportation ordered shall be held unlawful, the amount of such transportation, at regular railroad rates will be charged against the officer ordering it. Each responsible officer will have issued to him blank forms No. 35, A. G. O., signed on the back by the Adjutant General or Assistant Adjutant General, which he will regularly account for on his property returns. In order to secure transportation, form No. 35 A. G. O., properly filled up, together with a copy of the order requiring the transportation, will be presented to the railroad agent. The duplicate of form No. 35 A. G. O. will be retained by the officer, and he will forward this with a copy of the order requiring travel, to the Adjutant General's office. The railroad agent will retain the original certificate, and the copy of the order directing travel and cause them to be forwarded to this office, when the company will be paid. No transportation for the National Guard will be paid in any other manner than provided in this order.

Each property accounting officer, in order to be ready for the inspection, as provided in G. O. No. 12, A. G. O., 1897. will have all property collected at the armory, and will then make a list of all property that they have actually on hand and now in possession of the company, on forms 45, 45a, 46 and 47. They will then separate all property that they want condemned and dropped from that which is servicable, keeping in separate piles as entered on forms 45, 45a, 46 and 47. They will then make triplicate invoices on new form 13 of the property to be condemned as unserviceable or obsolete, having the property to be condemned separate and apart from that which is serviceable. Care will be exercised in putting the property in position for inspection, so that the Inspector can inspect without loss of time. A strict compliance with the provisions of this order is absolutely necessary, to the end that a systematic inspection may be made and confusion avoided. See paragraphs 878 to 889 inclusive in U. S. A question arising as to what is competent authority under Section 79 of the Military Code, the following is published for the information of all concerned:

A Captain, by virtue of his office, is supposed to drill, instruct, and make efficient his command, at such times as may be most suitable. In case he fails to order the drills necessary to the efficiency of his command, his superior officers are authorized under Section 49 of the Military Code, to order drills for such portions of their commands as may be deemed necessary. That is to say should a Battalion Commander find that one of his Companies is poorly drilled and instructed he is authorized to order extra weekly drills for that Company as long as may be deemed necessary. The base of military organization and efficiency thereof is the authority of Company Commanders to drill and instruct their Companies.

Company Commanders are competent to order Company drills.

THE BRIGADE COMMANDER,
Parkersburg, West Va.

SIR:—The property of Company G, 2nd Regiment, which has been condemned by Maj. Lyons, and forwarded to this office, shows gross negligence on the part of the Company Commander to keep the property in shape.

There was also a great negligence on his part in shipping the guns to this office, as he failed to crate them in any manner, and simply tied a string around them and shipped them loose. Such methods of doing as this cannot be tolerated. Property must be taken better care of hereafter, and the officers of the National Guard may as well understand now as later that they will be held responsible for the proper care of the property, and that they must know exactly where all this property is and that it is not used for any other purpose than that for which it was issued.

These guns which came in show that if proper care had been taken of them they would have been fit for service for several years yet, with the amount of service required of them in the National Guard.

By direction of the Commander-in-Chief.

Very Respectfully,

D. T. E. CASTEEL,

A. A. G.

The following is published for the information of all concerned:

ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,
Charleston, August 20, 1895.

THE BRIGADE COMMANDER,
Parkersburg, West Va.,

SIR:—The Commander-in-Chief directs that you order the officers of the West Virginia National Guard to assemble at Charleston, on the evening of September 20, 1897, for the purpose of holding a School of Instruction for a period of ten days.

They will be encamped near or in the city of Charleston, and will bring the necessary tentage.

You will also direct all officers having books of record to bring all record books with them.

It is suggested that you have three messes, one for the Brigade Headquarters, and one each for the Regimental Headquarters, having these officers bring the necessary equipage for this purpose. Cooks and waiters will be engaged here, so as to save transportation.

The instruction given at this School will be entirely in the hands of the Brigade Commander, all assistance that can be afforded by this office will be given upon request.

A detail has been asked from the War Department for an instructor to deliver lectures or any other instruction that may be deemed best to have.

For the purpose of guarding the camp it is suggested that you have a detail made from a near-by Company, say Co. "C," 2nd Regt., of a non-commissioned officer and ten picked men, to be used as a guard for the camp.

All those officers recently elected, and not yet commissioned, will also be sent to this School.

Very respectfully,

D. T. E. CASTEEL,

A. A. G.

In order to carry out the provisions of the above directions, all the officers of the West Virginia National Guard will assemble at Charleston, West Virginia, on the evening of Monday, September 20, 1897, in fatigue uniform and side arms.

For the purpose of recitations an alphabetical list will be made of all the officers except those of General Staff, and they will be divided into four sections. Instructions will be given in the following departments:

First.—Regulations.

Second.—Drill Regulations.

Third.—Troops in Campaign, and Military Code.

Fourth.—Guard Manual.

Fifth.—Small Arms Firing Regulations.

Lieut. Col. S. B. Baker will have charge of Instruction in Regulations.

Lieut. Col. C. L. Smith, Instruction in Drill Regulations.

Lieut. Col. W. H. Banks, Instruction of Troops in Campaign and Military Code.

Major Phil A. Shaffer, Instruction in Guard Manual.

Major W. H. Lyons, Instruction in Small Arms Firing Regulations.

The Adjutant General will give such instructions to the General Staff as may deemed proper. Each officer in charge of the above departments will select a suitable officer for each section to hear recitations, and will himself visit each section frequently and give special instructions when necessary. Lessons for each day will be regulated by the head of each department.

Officers in charge of sections will familiarize themselves with the lessons of each day in order to be able to explain intelligently all questions that may arise. In case of doubt the question will be referred to the head of department, and if heads of department are not able to decide, the question will be referred to the Brigade Commander.

All books of record will be brought to the school and inspected by the Brigade Inspector General. A muster roll of each Company and headquarters will be made and delivered to the Brigade Inspector General, who will compare them with the records, and when all errors have been corrected, will turn them in to Brigade Headquarters.

The following hours are prescribed for recitation:

Regulations,	8 to 9:30 a. m.
Drill Regulations,	10 to 11:30 a. m.
Troops in Campaign,	2 to 3 p. m.
Guard Manual,	3:30 to 4:30 p. m.
Small Arms Firing Regulations,	5 to 6 p. m.
Military Code and Lectures,	8 to 10 p. m.

There will be three messes, one for Brigade headquarters, and one for each Regiment, and Regimental Commanders will provide the necessary service for their Regiments except cooks and waiters, who will be provided by the Quartermaster General. The Chief Commissary will purchase and deliver the necessary subsistence and he will be assisted by the Regimental Commissaries, who will report to him at Charleston for duty on the 18th of September.

The tents and mess outfits and articles as can not be taken as baggage will be shipped to Major J. C. Gluck, Chief Quartermaster at Charleston, West Virginia, who will employ the necessary labor and transportation to transport them and the baggage of officers to camp, and erect the tents. The Regimental Quartermasters will assist the Chief Quartermaster and report to him at Charleston for duty on the 18th of September. The camp will be laid out in the usual way, omitting the Companies and their messes.

Regimental Commanders will ship two large tents suitable for recitation rooms, which the Chief Quartermaster will have erected in suitable places with one table and twenty-five chairs for each.

The Chief Quartermaster will ship Brigade Headquarters tents and equipage and have the tents erected ready for occupancy.

The commanding officer of the Second infantry will detail a non-commissioned officer and ten men to report to the Chief Quartermaster on the morning of September 20 for guard duty.

The examination of officers for promotion will be held at the meeting of this school, and the Board of officers for the examination of such officers for promotion will see that all officers who are up for promotion report at this time.

Parkersburg, W. Va.
April 1, 1898.

In making the annual report of Target Practice in accordance with regulations and orders to obtain uniformity and accurate results the following rules recommended by the Inspector Small Arms Practice will be carefully observed:

In the column headed "Number firing" place the number of those actually firing at that range. No man shall be counted as firing at any range, nor shall his score at that range be counted unless he has qualified at all previous ranges.

In the column headed "Average per cent of scores" place the average score of the Company at that range counting the score of each officer and men not firing and not excused by proper authority, as zero. In other words, this average is to be obtained by dividing the sum of the percentages of those firing, by the total strength of the Company, less the number of men excused.

In case a Company has had no target firing the annual report of the Company should exhibit the roll of the Company with the score of each man zero at every range except in case of men excused. Where a Company does not appear at all ranges the score of each man not excused shall be put down as zero, for those ranges at which he has not fired.

No person shall be excused from firing except on certificate of a physician that he is unable to attend practice.

By command of Brigadier General SPILMAN.
